

The Importance of Sunscreen in the winter

Just because it's cold outside doesn't mean you can put away your sunscreen! You can't forget to keep your face, neck, and hands protected from the sun's harmful rays.

The reason it's important to wear sunscreen during the winter months is: the ozone layer is thinner, and there is less ozone to absorb the sun's UV radiation. It feels colder outside, however there's actually more of the sun's harmful rays hitting the earth's surface and your skin. Prevent yourself from getting a cold-weather burn by using a product with SPF 30 or more.

2013 Crystal Classic Highlights

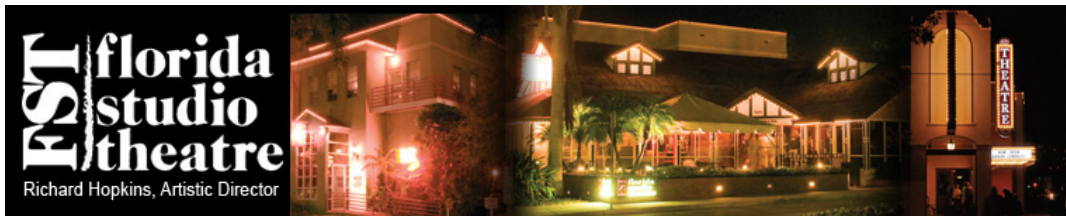

Recently named America's #1 Beach, the Crystal Classic has become a favorite of professional sand sculptors who have competed here. Displaying the beauty and cleanliness of the pristine white sand, sculptors have remarked that their sculptures look almost as if they were "carved in marble." In only 24 sculpting hours, the master sculptors create sand masterpieces, some over ten feet tall, and transform the always beautiful Siesta Beach into an outdoor art gallery. The Crystal Classic connects the arts and the beach in ways never before seen in Sarasota.

The Florida Studio Theatre Presents: The Prima Donnettes

Beginning in the 50s, female singing groups such as The Shirelles, The Vandellless, and The Dixie Cups began to break onto the popular airwaves. By the 60s and 70s female solo artists such as Aretha Franklin, Dusty Springfield and Diana Ross brought women to the forefront of the American stage. From the era of hula hoops and drive-ins to the fight for equal rights these women provided the soundtrack for the hopes and dreams of women everywhere. Featuring songs such as: "Mama Said," "One Fine Day" and "Natural Woman."
